Ending Strong, Preparing for Fall

Our teachers are finishing the year today helping distribute classroom items left behind. It is certainly a different last teacher day than we ever could have imagined last fall.

Cap & Gown Day

Distribution of caps and gowns to MHS seniors looked slightly different this year, but it was still a memorable day for the Class of 2020. Seniors dropped off textbooks and other school items and picked up awards, caps, gowns, and their senior yard signs from in front of MHS.

Kylie Strietelmeier tries on her cap in front of a cheering crowd of MHS staff members.

Plans for a graduation ceremony for the Class of 2020 are being finalized and will be sent to senior families by the end of this week.

there is no doubt we have achieved that goal. We have stretched the ability of every staff member to make the end of this year a success for all and every one has responded positively. The success our students have achieved is one of the best rewards we can receive as educators. As we look at other school systems, we certainly have been at the top of the list in being prepared for the adversity we have faced.

We are working hard and putting together a plan for how our 2020-21 school year will look. Behind the scenes, we are striving to ensure our students have the greatest opportunities for the best education possible and for our staff to have all of the tools necessary to make that happen. This involves working diligently with state authorities, local authorities, and other school systems as we prepare for the transition our state will make in education.

Communication is key. We will involve staff members in our planning and give our families information as it becomes available. We keep hearing the word "fluid" as a description of everyone's plan to move forward and ours will be no different. Our educational plan will be flexible to merge into the best practices which continue the strong culture of our community.

Thank you to all of our families for everything you've done these last two months to keep our students engaged in learning. We appreciate how much you've juggled in this ever-changing world. Please have a safe summer.
