MHS' oldest alumnus meets the newest students (story below)

April 7, 2022

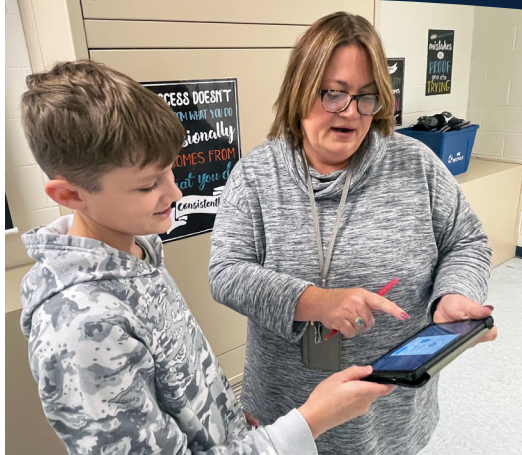

Celebrating the Classes of '35

This year's Kindergarten Preview Fair had a special guest, MHS's oldest alumnus, 105-year-old Mr. John Russell Lambert, a member of the Class of 1935! While the incoming kindergarten students may not be able to count to 100, they and their parents were impressed to have such a special visitor. WTHR also covered the event - check out the video.

Davis Honored

PHMS teacher Crystal Davis has been honored as a recipient of the Lilly Endowment's Teacher Creativity Fellowship Program. Davis, who teaches Project Lead the Way classes, was one of 103 teachers in Indiana to receive the honor, which allows educators funding for projects to restore enthusiasm and stimulate creativity.

Davis works with a student to program a robot for different tasks.

Davis' project is titled "The Mountains are Calling – Looking Deep into Nature." She'll be seeking solitude, self-renewal and an extended time of reflection on an ancestral farm in the Appalachian Mountains of southeastern Kentucky. Davis will be in isolation most of the time, gardening, making repairs to an old barn, building an irrigation system and rainwater shower system, reading, learning photography, and more. "It will be a time to disconnect and focus on the natural world," said Davis.

Emergency Drill April 13 at MHS/PHMS

Mooreville Schools will partner with state and local emergency responders for emergency training on Wednesday, April 13.

Students will not be on campus due to the eLearning Day on April 13, although teachers will be taking part in training and incoming kindergarten students will be visiting with kindergarten teachers.

The public should be aware that the MHS/PHMS/Northwood campus as well as the Education Center will have a large presence of police, fire, and EMS vehicles throughout that day.

Congratulations to the MHS Underclass Awards Recipients!
